

You can use these designs to setup an image for manufacture. The background color should be filled to the red line. The black line will show where the patch will be cut, but the design must be filled to the red bleed line (remove the black line between the patch and the red line.) The designs on the left are easier to use to setup the design. You can convert to a 300 DPI or PNG, but even easier and preferred, you can save the design as a vector file and use that file to order.